This book consists of 144-page text with images plus a 62-minute teaching VHS cassette published in 1996. The original editorial project, unique in Italy, represented an updating, practical, technical-scientific reference book for the professional application of Therapeutic Riding (TR). The topics of the book concerned the relationship between Riding and TR, TR general principles, TR application in the neuromotor and psychiatric disorders, TR organisation and purposes in the general rehabilitative context of the subjects with disabilities.
